The college of choice for those who serve.

Maybe you're ready to take the next step in your military career. Perhaps you're thinking ahead to civilian life and work.

Either way, the best route to your objective may be a college degree.

And there's no better way to earn it than with a college that has helped more than 65,000 servicemembers achieve their objectives — an accredited college where you can get credit for military training, take courses whenever and wherever you choose, and do it all affordably.

No matter where you are in your career or where you are serving, Excelsior College brings college within your reach. That's what makes us your best choice.

Excelsior College is a proud recipient of the Council of College and Military Educators (CCME) Institutional Award — a selective honor bestowed upon organizations that have significantly advanced the cause of military education.

The most efficient path for the military.

Why Excelsior College? Because we get you to your degree more efficiently than any other option.

- We accept more credits, including credits you earned through military training and experience, CLEP and DSST exams, and courses from other accredited colleges and universities.
- We help you chart your course with dedicated military academic advisors and consultants based at military installations.
- We give you options for finishing your degree, all available at a distance. Complete Excelsior College courses online in 15 and 8 week terms—or show what you already know by taking UExcel® Exams for credit.
- We make it affordable. Having to earn fewer credits saves you money. So does a range of financial aid programs such as military tuition assistance and Veterans Benefits/GI Bill.

Thanks to these advantages, Military Advanced Education named Excelsior College one of the top 20 colleges serving the U.S. military. And GI Jobs ranked us among the top 15% of military-friendly colleges.

Options to help you chart your course.

Credit or non-credit, degree programs or certificates, Excelsior College provides you with a wealth of choices to meet your objectives:

- Excelsior College Courses. With online courses in over 30 degree and certificate programs—including criminal justice — Excelsior College courses cover the gamut of academic disciplines.
- UExcel® Exams can help you minimize the cost of your education by providing you with a more affordable way to earn college credit. More than fifty UExcel exams are available in many subjects. Each exam is worth three to eight credits, and can be taken at any of 4,000 testing centers around the world. Once you register for an exam, you can take up to six months to learn the material through supported self study. Free content guides outline topics and learning resources for each exam.
- Center for Professional Development (CPD). With more than 100 non-credit programs, the CPD provides instruction in high-demand fields, from business and construction technology to video game design and development and project management. For more information email cpd@excelsior.edu.

- Military Spouse Program. Excelsior College offers military spouses significantly reduced undergraduate degree program course tuition costs (Excelsior Course Option). Our Military Spouse Scholarship Program can help spouses fund course tuition, exam fees, and Center for Professional Development courses. Excelsior College participates in the MYCAA Program for military spouses.

- Success Strategies for Military and Veterans Course. Provides college orientation to veteran and military members, and teaches transitional career strategies for those entering the civilian workforce or continuing with a military career. This eight week online course helps military veterans make informed decisions about their future through the creation of an education plan and career action plan.

Whatever you need to succeed.

No matter what your course of study, Excelsior College provides the resources you'll need as you finish your degree:

- Academic Advisors. The Center for Military Education has Military Admission Counselors and Academic Advisors, many who are veterans, standing by to guide you every step of the way.
- Excelsior College Library. The library gives you access to thousands of online books, articles, and other tools through its partnership with the Sheridan Libraries of the Johns Hopkins University.
- MyExcelsior. Your window into everything at Excelsior College, MyExcelsior enables you to customize our online services to your needs.
- Excelsior College Bookstore. From our online bookstore, you can purchase not only textbooks, but software, Guided Learning Packages to help you prepare for exams, and other study supplies. Also available by fax or phone.

- Online writing and tutoring services.
Take advantage of experienced tutors who can help you improve your writing skills.
- One Transcript®. Combine your academic records into a single transcript, so your presentation to employers and other colleges is clear and impressive.
- Career Center. Centralized resources, services, and tools to provide a strong foundation for all your future career decisions. EC JobLinks is also offered as a free online job search database and resume building tool.
- LtCol Bryant A. Murray Online Veterans Center. Connect with other veteran students and get matched to a supportive veteran mentor. Explore topics via webinar series, how to use your VA education benefits, learn about career resources, health and wellness, veteran partnerships and vet to vet wisdom.

Military Partnerships

- Air Force Virtual Education Center – Air University Associate to Baccalaureate Cooperative Program (AU-ABC). The AU-ABC Program is an initiative between Air University and civilian higher education institutions to offer bachelor’s degree programs via distance learning that are relevant to an individual’s Air Force career field. The program is designed to transfer CCAF credits so students can obtain a bachelor’s degree with no more than 60 additional semester credits. Air Force personnel can go to one centralized website, the Air Force Virtual Education Center, for their educational needs.
- Coast Guard (CG) DL Partnership. Excelsior College partnered with the CG Institute (CGI) to meet the needs of Team Coast Guard. Excelsior College offers degree and certificate programs to match Coast Guard career fields to include homeland security, criminal justice, liberal arts, business, technology, and health sciences. Courses in business subjects are offered.
- GoArmyEd and College of the American Soldier. Excelsior College is a member of the College of the American Soldier and participates in the Career NCO Degree Programs, Army Career Degrees Program (MOS 51C and 68C) and Army NCO Degrees Program, Advanced Degree Program, and Enlisted Education Program. Undergraduate, graduate, and certificate programs delivered through online learning are offered in areas that match Army career fields.

Specialized faculty evaluations of Army training in the Combat Arms and SSD1 enables Soldiers to maximize credit for Army training combined courses for Army Soldiers that build upon Army training.

- Marine Corps Community Services’ (MCCS) Lifelong Learning Program (LLP) Academic Explorer (AeX). Excelsior College is a participating college in this Marine Corps program. This system provides Marines and MCCS-LLP staff with a powerful tool for identifying and exploring higher education options. Excelsior College degree programs, course offerings, and credit by exam are included in this comprehensive online search tool.
- Navy College Program DL Partnership. As a partner with the Navy College Program, Excelsior College offers sailors “rating-relevant” associate and bachelor’s degrees, through the successful completion of courses (offered online).
- Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges (SOC) Networks. Excelsior College is a current member of the Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges Degree Network System (DNS). The school participates in the DNS-2 (Associate level) and DNS-4 (Bachelor’s level) system. The DNS is a group of institutions selected to provide servicemembers and their eligible family members the opportunity to complete college degrees without losing credit because of frequent changes in duty station. Many courses offered by member institutions have two way guaranteed transferability to provide more flexibility and options in order to satisfy degree requirements. The SOC DNS Student Agreement issued to all eligible students at member institutions provides a complete evaluation of the servicemember's prior learning, including courses from other colleges and universities, military training courses, military occupational experience, nationally-recognized exams, and other non-traditional credit, as well as clearly identifying requirements for completing the degree.

- US Army Sergeants Major Academy, Fort Bliss, TX. Excelsior College offers on-site course instruction at the undergraduate and graduate level through an MOU with the US Army Sergeants Major Academy. Graduate degree programs and instruction is offered on-site through the College of the American Soldier Advanced Degree Program.

Sergeant Major Course candidates work with our team of military academic advisors to map a path to degree completion. Since 1999, this partnership has helped more than 2,000 Army leaders complete their degrees with Excelsior College.

- Joint Special Operations University.
Excelsior College is an official partner with Joint Special Operations University (JSOU) offering bachelor degree programs in liberal arts, business, military studies, and criminal justice. JSOU Enlisted Academy course graduates earn college credit based on Excelsior College faculty evaluations and receive customized military academic advising and degree planning services.
  - Association of US Army Warrant Offices.
Excelsior College has partnered with the US Army Warrant Officers Association (USAWOA) to provide educational opportunities to Army Warrant Officers (active Army , National Guard, Reserve, Retired, and Former Warrants). Military Academic Advisors and Admissions counselors provide customized degree planning and evaluation services to members.
  - Enlisted Association of the National Guard
Excelsior College has partnered with the Enlisted Association of the National Guard of the United States (EANGUS) to provide educational opportunities to National Guard members and veterans. Military Academic Advisors and Admissions counselors provide customized degree planning and evaluation services to members.

Excelsior College accepts more than 50,000 credits for military training every year.

Excelsior College is affordable.

Few colleges help servicemembers pay for their education in the way Excelsior College does. First and foremost, because we accept more of your credits, you have fewer left to earn. That not only generates major savings, but helps you complete your degree more efficiently.

In addition, a broad range of financial aid programs makes Excelsior College eminently affordable for military personnel:

- Military Tuition Assistance funds apply toward the cost of course tuition.
- Excelsior College offers payment plans and scholarship opportunities to help fit college within your budget.
- Federal financial aid (including Stafford Loans, Pell Grants, and other programs) is available under Title IV.
- Post-9/11 GI Bill. Benefits can include tuition and fees, monthly housing allowance, and books/supplies stipend up to $1,000 (some restrictions apply). Veterans are eligible if they have accumulated at least 90 days of aggregate service on or after September 11, 2001 (at least 30 days for those discharged with a service-connected disability). You must have received an honorable discharge.
