Description of Training Organization

The Virginia Commonwealth University Police Academy (VCUPA) has been training Virginia law enforcement officers since 1978. The Academy is certified by the Virginia Department of Criminal Justice Services. The VCUPA has served over 30 agencies throughout Central Virginia and is responsible for the basic and in-service training of approximately 250 sworn police officers. The Academy also provides training for approximately 30 certified dispatchers and over 250 security personnel. The VCU Police Department is the 4th largest Campus Police Department in the country and the only one east of the Mississippi to have its own certified police academy. The Academy staff is composed of the Director - Deputy Chief of Support Services, the Assistant Director - Training Sergeant, Support Staff to include a police Lieutenant, an administrative assistant, two Community Police Officers and a cadre of over 100 instructors. Located in the Capitol City of Richmond, this cadre is composed of several professionals from forensics, DMV, state, city and local police agencies and court professionals. Our primary instructors include 26 sworn VCU Police personnel who are General Instructors and 10 Specialty Instructors, all certified by the Virginia Department of Criminal Justice Services.

Description of Visit

From February 17-18, 2005, four representatives of Criminal Justice Training Assessment conducted a site visit to the Virginia Commonwealth University Police Academy to assess the Basic Police Academy program offered by the Training Division. On the first morning (February 17, 2005), the team assembled at the Virginia Commonwealth University Police Department Academy in Richmond, Virginia. Following a brief organizational meeting and introductions to the academy staff, the assessment team was shown to the lab to access all the necessary materials and to begin the assessment process. The team determined that the remainder of the day would be spent organizing the various subject modules of the recruit training program into familiar college course content areas. Before finishing for the day, the course areas were discussed and then assigned to a specific faculty member to begin reviewing.

The team began the second day by continuing to review the assigned materials. Due to the quality and nature of delivery of the materials, the assessment team was able to complete the assessment by mid-day. In the early afternoon of the second day, the team conducted an exit-interview/debrief with the staff and administration of the academy.
