Description of Training Organization

The Colorado Springs Police Department (CSPD) is responsible for providing law enforcement services for the City of Colorado Springs, Colorado. The mission statement of the Department is: “Our mission is promoting the quality of life in Colorado Springs by providing police services with integrity and with a spirit of excellence, in partnership with our community.” The Department’s total work force, including sworn, civilian, civilian grant and temporary employees is 965. CSPD is funded by appropriations of the City Council of Colorado Springs and a special sales tax with a total budget of $74.6 million (Fiscal Year 2003).

Four bureaus report directly to the Chief of Police in CSPD:

- Management Services, which includes Information Technology, Planning, Fiscal & Support Services, and Staff Resources.
- Patrol Bureau, which includes Falcon Division, Gold Hill Division, and Sand Creek Division.
- Office of Professional Standards, which includes Internal Affairs, Inspections, Student Crime Stoppers, Court Liaison, Public Information, Crime Stoppers, Community Relations, and the Training Academy.
- Operations Support Bureau, which includes Central Division; Metro Vice, Narcotics, and Intelligence Division; and Investigations Division.

Colorado Springs Police Department Training Academy

“The Colorado Springs Police Department Training Academy has incorporated the aspects of Problem Based Learning into the training approaches for both the Training Academy as well as the field training,” according to the Recruit Class Training Manual. The Academy provides basic and advanced training to law enforcement officers in the State of Colorado. The mission statement of the Colorado Springs Police Department Training Academy is “to challenge ourselves and our students to attain the highest ethical, physical, and academic standards of the law enforcement.” Training values are provided in the Recruit Class Training Manual as follows:

- We will not tolerate mediocrity, dishonesty, or cheating.
- We are committed to preparing police professionals to fully serve their community in the most effective and efficient way possible.
- We believe integrity and ethics go hand-in-hand and are therefore important aspects of all training.
- We shall constantly seek technical advances and strategies to enhance the performance level of our students.
- We believe educating members of the community has a positive effect on our service delivery and leads to enhanced support of understanding.

The recruit class provides training to individuals seeking certification as law enforcement officers in the State of Colorado. The academy conforms to the guidelines of the Colorado Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST).

- The Director of the CSPD Training Academy reports directly to the Commander of the Professional Standards Division.
- The Training Administrator, In-Service Training Supervisor, and Recruit Training Supervisor all report directly to the Academy Director.
- Ten additional academy staff members report directly to the Training Administrator, In-Service Supervisor, or Recruit Training Supervisor.
- All instructors are certified by ASLET (American Society of Law Enforcement Training).

CSPD offers two types of programs of instruction – Mandated Training, which includes the basic training received by law enforcement officers, and In-Service Courses, which includes training in specific areas of law enforcement. CSPD mandates annual in-service training requirements of thirty-six hours for sworn personnel and ten hours for non-sworn personnel. The total workforce of the academy, including commissioned personnel, technical, clerical, supervisory, and administrative positions, is seventeen. This workforce is supplemented by five volunteers. The total budget of the CSPD Training Academy was $1.2 million (Fiscal Year 2003).

Description of Training Programs

The courses listed below comprise the Recruit Class. This is an 858.5-hour, 22-week basic training program that includes and/or exceeds all requirements of Colorado Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST). Colorado POST provides comprehensive information to all state police jurisdictions on the content and duration of basic police training. The curriculum of the Recruit Class at the Colorado Springs Police Department Training Academy provides new officers with instruction in Administration of Justice, Basic Law, Community Interaction, Patrol Procedures, Traffic Control, Investigative Procedures, Communications, Arrest Control, Basic Firearms, Driving, and other areas. According to the Recruit Class Training Manual, the “recruit officer curriculum is specifically designed to achieve technical competence and physical proficiency coupled with an empathetic classroom attitude toward public service.”

All written examinations must be passed with a minimum score of 75 percent. Exceptions are as follows: Arrest Control (85 percent), PR-24 (85 percent), Driving (85 percent), Firearms (85 percent), and Use of Force (100 percent).

Location: Colorado Springs Police Department Academy, Colorado Springs, CO

Length: 858.5-hours (22 weeks)

Program Objective: To provide participants with the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to serve effectively as law enforcement officers in the State of Colorado.

Learning Objective: Upon successful completion of this program, the graduate will be able to perform all routine duties of an entry level peace officer in the State of Colorado.

Instructional Methods: A combination of lecture (supplemented by PowerPoint, video and handouts), class exercises, group exercises, and practical exercises are used.

Learning Assessments: Assessments include traditional written exams as well as demonstrations of competence, and oral presentations.

Description of Visit

From June 2 to June 4, 2003, the above four representatives of Excelsior College conducted a site visit to the Colorado Springs Police Department (CSPD) Training Academy to assess the educational programs offered by the Recruit Class.

On the first morning (Monday, June 2, 2003), the team assembled at the CSPD Training Academy. The team met briefly with Lieutenant John Godsey, Academy Director, and Sergeant Jane Anderson, In-Service Training Supervisor. The assessment team was shown to its conference room headquarters to begin the assessment process.

The team determined that the remainder of the morning would be spent organizing the various subject modules of the recruit training program into familiar college course content areas. In the afternoon, the team met with several members of the academy staff (including Lieutenant Godsey and Sergeant Anderson). The assessment coordinator presented information (supplemented by PowerPoint) to the academy staff with the assistance of the assessment consultants. Before finishing for the day, the course areas were discussed and then assigned to a specific faculty member for review to begin the next day.

Assistant Professor Asmussen reviewed material for the following courses: Introduction to Criminal Justice, Community Policing, and Communications.

Doctor Gallagher reviewed material for the following courses: Criminal Procedure, Criminal Law, Criminal Investigation, Traffic Investigation and Enforcement, and Fitness and Wellness.

Chief Johnson reviewed material for the following courses: Patrol Procedures, Law Enforcement Tactics, Basic Firearms, and Driving.

The above list of courses was developed from a list of subjects mandated by Colorado Peace Officer Standards and Training and from the supplemental subject areas included in the recruit class training program by the Colorado Springs Police Department. The team spent June 3 and the morning of June 4 conducting an in-depth review of the recruit class materials. On the afternoon of June 4, the team completed its review of program materials and discussed the credit recommendations with the training staff (including Lieutenant Godsey and Sergeant Anderson).

On Friday, August 27, 2004, the second team from Criminal Justice Training Assessment conducted a site visit to the Colorado Springs Police Department (CSPD) Training Academy to assess the educational programs offered by the Recruit Class and select Advanced Programs.

The team assembled at the CSPD Training Academy. The team met briefly with Lieutenant John Godsey, Academy Director, and Sergeant Jane Anderson, In-Service Training Supervisor. The assessment team was shown to its conference room headquarters and conducted the assessment. Discussions centered on established criteria previously used by the experienced team.

Associate Professor Asmussen reviewed material for the following courses: Advanced Community Policing, Advanced Law Enforcement Driving, Law Enforcement Practicum, and Special Topics in Law Enforcement. Associate Professor Bumgarner reviewed material for the following courses: Law Enforcement Practicum, Police Supervision, Problem-Based Learning in Law Enforcement, and Traffic Accident Investigation.
